

Program Goals:

The intent of the program is to guide youth to a better understanding on how their behaviour affects others within the community, and to make amends by giving back to the community in a meaningful way.

Youth involved in the program will gain a new insight into the cause and effects of their behaviour. In addition, the program may help youth to develop new skills and interests, and to seek out new training and career opportunities being offered within the community.

Through our program the CYIW will be encouraging the youth involved to continue with their education, increase their participation in Addictions and Mental Health and Wellness Counselling sessions provided within the community, including life skills and to increase participation in health, cultural, and recreational projects.

About Us:

The Community Youth Intervention Initiative (CYIW) works with youth between the ages of 15-21 in conflict with the law. The Community Youth Intervention Worker works closely with probation officers, and operates as a linkage between youth and probation officers. The CYIW also works with community members including the leadership and the community Education Authority.

The CYIW plays an important role in the development of a local program and provides support and assistance to reintegrate youth back into the community - in a positive and meaningful way. The role of the CIYW is to meet regularly with clients, and help build their self-esteem while promoting a healthy life style for the youth involved.

Benefits of the program:

Youth who are involved in the program will be provided with the opportunity to learn new skills and hobbies, will develop self-esteem and empowerment, they will be given the opportunity to participate in group activities such as camping, boating and other cultural events throughout the program, they will also learn about their community and the history of La Loche as well they will reconnect with the elders and other family members. Youth will also be mentored and encouraged in developing a healthy lifestyle.
